

G. O. P. UNITED IN ITS FIGHT

Davidson's Victory And Its Splendid Endorsement By The Leaders Assures This.

DEMOCRATIC PARTY IS NOW SPLIT

Merton, The Defeated Democratic Nominee, Says That He Will Not Support Aylward, The Successful Candidate.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 6, 2 p. m.—The figures so far received give Davidson a majority in every county except Burnett, Douglas, Polk, Price and St. Croix. The total of his majority is 47,260. While Davidson's majority is 2,411, leaving Davidson's clear majority a total of 44,849. Minor was defeated for congress in the ninth district by Gustave Kuestermann by 100 votes. In the tenth district Madden of Ashland is the nominee over Morse of Antigo. From five counties Madden's lead over Morse is about 800. Babcock was nominated in the third district by about 332. The indications are that Gilbert has defeated McGee for attorney general. His large majority in Dane county is offsetting McGee's in Milwaukee. There is little doubt of the nomination of William H. Froelich for state treasurer, but the race between Beedle and Puntell for insurance commissioner is very close. Puntell leads, but many counties have reported a majority for Beedle without giving any figures.

Lenroot's Congratulations.
Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 6.—Your majority is certainly large, enough, congratulations, is the wording of a dispatch sent Davidson by Lenroot. Senator La Follette has sent nothing up to noon.
Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 6.—That Governor Davidson's victory over Irvine L. Lenroot in the contest for the republican gubernatorial nomination in Tuesday's primaries was overwhelming is indicated as later returns come in. The governor's majority is conservatively estimated at 40,000. Furthermore, he will receive the support of his opponent, as Lenroot, in answer to reports that he would run independently, has made the following announcement at Superior:
"Governor Davidson is nominated by a very decided majority and will be elected. I hope that a strong platform will be adopted, one unmistakably declaring for progress along the same lines on which we have been fighting for the past six years."

Aylward Nominated.
In the democratic primaries John A. Aylward of Madison received the nomination over State Senator Ernst Merton of Waukesha by a safe majority. This was a great surprise, as Merton was believed to have a walk-over. The result is a split party, for Mr. Merton in an interview declared that he will not support Aylward in the campaign.
"Mr. Aylward called me a protectionist and a republican and he would not want the support of a man he so attacked," said Mr. Merton. This statement was something of a bonerang, for after reading it many of the Merton followers said they were glad he had been defeated.

How the Tickets Stand.
There are still a number of districts to be heard from, and the final returns may not come in before tomorrow noon. So far as is now known the nominees of the two main parties are as follows:

REPUBLICAN.
Governor—James O. Davidson.
Lieutenant governor—William D. Connor.
Secretary of state—James A. Frear or William H. Froelich.
State treasurer—John J. Kempf.
Attorney general—Frank Gilbert.
Insurance commissioner—Thomas M. Purcell.

DEMOCRATIC.
Governor—John A. Aylward.
Lieutenant governor—Michael F. Blenski.
Secretary of state—Clarence J. Noel.
State treasurer—Andrew Jensen.
Attorney general—Martin J. Lueck.
Insurance commissioner—Henry J. Neumann.

Following are the congressional nominations:
Democrat.
1—Henry A. Cooper, J. J. Cunningham.
2—John M. Nelson, George W. Lewis.
3—W. B. Babcock, J. W. Murphy.
4—W. J. Cary, Thomas Fleming.
5—William H. Stafford, J. G. Donnelly.
6—Alvin Breger, Charles H. Wiesse.
7—John J. Esch, C. P. Hille.
8—J. H. Davidson, No nominee.
9—E. S. Minor or.
10—K. Kuestermann, P. A. Baileu.
11—J. E. S. Morse, D. D. Conway.
12—J. J. Jenkins, E. J. McGuire.
It seems probable that State Senator James Frear is nominated for secretary of state, though W. H. Froelich, the stalwart candidate, is a close second. Secretary of State Houser appears to be a bad third.

Result Pleases Spooner.
United States Senator Spooner gave out the following statement in Madison last night:
"While the primary law is obviously expensive to candidates and can undoubtedly be improved, the people were enabled under it in all cases to give certain effect to the choice of the majority. Popular appreciation of the true spirit of the system was shown by the resentment against attempted dictation and by results evidently intended to put an end to personal political ambition in Wisconsin. If any man had conceived the idea that the Wisconsin primary system could be made a useful supplement to a political machine the result must have convinced him of his error."
"The nomination of Governor Davidson was in harmony with party usage, the public sense of justice and the best interests of the state. He is a public servant for undoubted integrity and ability and of large experience in the discharge of legislative and administrative duties, and he will be overwhelmingly elected."

Close Call for Babcock.
In the congressional fights there were some surprises and several close calls. Congressman Babcock is believed to have been renominated by a small majority. On the other hand, the friends of Judge Mahoney claim his nomination by a narrow margin. Official returns may be needed to determine definitely who is nominated.
In the ninth district Congressman Minor apparently was defeated. Gustave Kuestermann, his opponent, says he has a plurality of 800. Congressman Minor, at his home in Sturgeon Bay, asserts that the result is in doubt.
Congressman Stafford in the fifth district pulls through by a majority of a few hundred. Congressman Otjen in the fourth district is defeated for nomination by Sheriff W. L. Cary. Congressman Jenkins in the eleventh probably has pulled through with a few votes to spare.
Congressman Cooper in the first, Congressman Weiss in the second, Congressman Esch in the seventh and Congressman Davidson in the eighth districts are renominated. Esch and Davidson had no opponents. In the second district John Nelson was nominated by the republicans, and in the ninth E. A. Morse is a nominee. Mr. Nelson's victory was the double-barrelled order, for he also was elected to congress to fill out the term of the late H. C. Adams by about 5,000 majority over Grant Thomas.
For State Senators.
The results in the state senatorial contests are full of interest. Senator O. W. Johnson of Racine, one of the leading stalwarts, has been defeated in a three-cornered fight by Isaac T. Bishop. Senator George B. Hudnell, who was opposed by Assemblyman Andrews, is renominated. Senator Bird of Elginette law fame is renominated, as is Senator James H. Stout, the latter having no opponent. Senator Stevens, who was opposed for renomination by La Follette, and who retorted with a scathing letter which was one of the features of the campaign, is defeated. Captain John A. Henry, an ardent Legros man, is defeated by T. W. Brannen.
On the democratic side Senator North of Dodge county, one of the few democratic members of the upper house, has been defeated by Paul Husting, a young lawyer, district attorney of the county. Senator H. C. Martin of Lafayette and Green counties, who was backed by La Follette, was probably nominated.
The candidates of all parties meet at Madison Sept. 18 for the purpose of adopting a platform. The democrats and social democrats already have adopted platforms. It is probable, therefore, that they will not be very well represented.

McGovern Is Defeated.
In the local fight here the full returns show that F. X. Boden had defeated District Attorney McGovern by 672. The only candidates for county offices on the McGovern slate to pull through were Fred W. Cards for clerk of the courts and Charles C. Maas for register of deeds, each of whom got through by majorities of about 200.
The complete returns show that less than 40 per cent of the vote of the county was cast. Out in the state, from the returns received, the percentage is much lower.

Farming Topics Discussed.
Starkville, Miss., Sept. 6.—The growing of alfalfa in Mississippi, the advantages the dairy industry offers the south, the application of scientific knowledge and experience to everyday farm work, and means of preparing for the boll weevil were among the topics discussed today at the state farmers' institute. The prominent agricultural experts on the evening program include John Hamilton and W.

Monument to Pilgrims.
Boston, Mass., Sept. 6.—The historic town of Plymouth is no longer to be left with the unquestioned reputation of being the place where the Pilgrims signed the compact and landed to form a settlement. The Cape Cod Pilgrim Memorial association has offered five prizes of $200 each for designs for a monument to be erected at Provincetown, to commemorate and honor the landing of the forefathers and the signing of the compact at that place.
The monument is to be of granite, not less than 250 feet high, built up on a hill of sand formation about 90 feet above sea level. Its cost is estimated at about $80,000.

The complaint of the stockholders arises from the recent issue of $3,000,000 5 per cent bonds. Eleven Indians were induced to vote for John P. McDonald for sheriff and he won out by six votes. Ex-Sheriff Ben. P. The best legal authority in the city holds that the votes cannot be thrown out, the supreme court having fixed the status of the Indian in recent decisions.

Take care of your advertising and your advertising will take care of you!

Evansville is holding a fair, that according to all accounts is a corker.

Now the primary is over the politicians can sit down and take a good rest.

The straw hat was doomed the first of September, but many are still worn.

This may not be Indian summer, but it is much better than was the weather a few weeks ago.

Janesville is a good city to live in and people should impress all visitors with this fact.

The council says the tracks must go off River street. The roads have something to say about that, it would appear.

This has been a banner year for Tobacco, sugar, corn and crops in general. Money should be plentiful this fall.

The endorsement of the franchise proposition for a road from Janesville to Madison is the next important issue for Janesville to face. Let everyone become a booster in this matter and let all knackers be barred.

There appears to be friction between aldermen at almost every council meeting. Those that have the power for serving the city—five per cent—appear to object to those who do not have the five per cent receiving any special favors.

When the brick paving is down on River street it is proposed to hold a grand opening. Good idea. Why not advertise the fact and make it general wherever an improvement is made in the city? They would not come often enough to hurt anyone.

Rowdy baseball at Beloit Labor Day Disgusted the followers of the sport that went down from here that any attempt to bring Janesville into competition with such a set of teams as composes the Wisconsin State league would meet with opposition of the worst kind.

This last summer the Court House park was the scene of band concerts that delighted everyone. Now the band boys want a bandstand so as to give more next year. It is up to some civic society, say the Eagles, to donate the funds necessary if the city is too poor to raise the money.

HOUSER DISCREDITED

Election returns show that Secretary of State Houser, the political father of the former administration, has been defeated for re-nomination. Poetic justice might be applied in this case. Backer and promoter of the primary bill, he goes down to defeat upon its first trial. Such is greatness, such is the political death of the creator of the machine that grew so big it swallowed him up. Exult Houser.

VERMONT'S EXAMPLE

Politicians always look to Vermont to gauge the way the political wind blows each election year. If Vermont shows weakness in the republican columns then a democratic ticket is sure of success. Tuesday they held their election. Complete returns show that the republicans were victorious by an overwhelming majority. This is taken by political wiseheads to mean that the country is again safe for the republicans.

MCGOVERN'S DEFEAT

In the defeat of McGovern for the district attorneyship of Milwaukee, the decent voters have shown their disapproval of the methods used by the ring politicians of his type to secure notoriety and pay off political hatred. Mr. McGovern has shown the cloven foot ever since he was in office and his persecution of Charles Pfister has been a matter that has caused the thinking men of the whole state to boil over with indignation. Mr. Pfister has been exonerated of any charge brought against him and now the voters have rebuked McGovern for his assault upon the character of a private citizen.

BABCOCK'S VICTORY

Babcock has won out again. No one except his opponents really thought for a minute the astute congressman from the third would be defeated. Everyone believed he would do just what he has done—carry his prelect, in spite of all opposition. Twice the Milwaukee Free Press has had Babcock beaten and twice he has fooled them. Their political forecast has been wrong, their work in vain and Wisconsin will again be ably represented in congress by the gentleman from the third congressional district.

BRYAN RECEIVED

William Jennings Bryan, who a dozen years ago was an unknown editor on an obscure paper, is now a world-wide character. Instead of W. J. Bryan of Podunk he is William Jennings Bryan of the United States. He has even dropped his native state in the race for greatness and is now representative of the whole country. His return from Europe after a year's sojourn, his regal reception in New York, his visit to Chicago and his grand rally at his home town—Lincoln—has been one continual round.

To the European minds William Jennings Bryan is a man above men, a man as widely known as Roosevelt.

From the moment of his speech in which he used the biblical allusion in 1896 he has been a national character. Twice run for president, twice defeated, he now looms up again as a presidential possibility, the idol of his blind followers. Whether he will be successful in securing the nomination remains to be seen, but the fact remains he is today a figure in national life of the republic that has never been equalled by any other man in our history.

READY FOR THE FRAY

The republican and democratic parties are now ready for the general election fray which will come in November. The nomination of James Davidson for the republican party as nothing else could have done. Senator Spooner came all the way from the east to endorse Davidson by his vote and prominent men of the two factions that have split the party for the past six years have united in his behalf. This morning it is announced that Irvine Lenroot, the defeated candidate, will cast his ballot for Governor Davidson and the possibility of a second split is cast to the winds. Senator La Follette has learned that personal dictation of voters will not go in Wisconsin, but he is by no means entirely out of the running. Men who have supported him in the past years and deserted him this fall to vote for Davidson are still true to his beliefs and Lenroot's defeat does not mean anything beyond the fact that the republican party has gotten together again and is ready to meet the common foe, Democracy. The issue can not be in doubt. Despite the fact Mr. Aylward is a strong man, a good man, a fearless fighter, his defeat is spelled now as clearly as it will be after the day of the November election. How different is the attitude of Mr. Lenroot and Mr. Merton, the defeated democratic candidate. Lenroot announces he will support Davidson. Merton is reported to have refused to support Aylward. Aylward was the choice of the people who follow democracy and as such they should abide by it. The real fight is over and from now on the result will be a foregone conclusion.

PRESS COMMENT

With a Lower Case "R"

Milwaukee Journal: Reform will now be spelled for a while without any capital letter.

Not Very Enthusiastic

Evening Wisconsin: On the whole, the primary election law worked well, being conducted with good order throughout the city, and so far as heard, throughout the state.

Day of the Viking Descendants

Sheboygan Journal: These are strenuous days for the Norsemen and they occupy the newspapers to the exclusion of all other nationalities—Stensland, Battling Nelson, Davidson, Lenroot, etc.

What Do You Think of That?

Exchange: An Ohio village banker was handed a check for $1 and dreamily cashed it, number, which was 2480. And still some people think Mrs. Chadwick was singularly gifted.

Prohibition Issue up in Maine

Madison Democrat: Maine fires the opening gun Sept. 10, but the question of re-nomination of the prohibition amendment is of such overwhelming importance that the election results will not be a reliable expression of the trend of sentiment on national issues.

Felony by Brute of Brutes

Milwaukee Sentinel: That "great moral uprising" that our professional uplifters are plauditing about was hardly illustrated in the consuming popular interest taken in that affair out in Gold field, where a vast crowd assembled to see a brace of brutes commit the prize fight felony.

Tail Trying to Wag Dog

El Paso Herald: British papers are denouncing Roosevelt as "an anarchist" for daring to meddle with the spelling of the "English language." Our British brethren though converted to the idea of majority rule in most other respects, still cling to the idea that they control the language. They are only minority stockholders.

Birth Rate Declining Generally

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: In practically all of the great countries of the world the birth rate is declining. It is a world movement, and though France was a little earlier in revealing it than was any other great country, all of them are falling into line with her. Coincidentally, however, with the falling in the birth rate is a decline in the rate of deaths, which France, where the total of inhabitants remains virtually stationary. Coincidentally, moreover, with the shrinkage in births, comes an increase in the food supply of the world. If Mal

No Tidal Waves on Great Lakes.

There are no real tidal waves on the great lakes. Occasionally waves of astonishing height roll in upon the shore, where there is no storm, but such phenomena are not in any sense tides. They are the result of great atmospheric pressure, far from the places where they are observed, or of distant tempests.

compelled to revise his notions about the increasing pressure of population on the means of subsistence.

The Voice of the People

Evening Wisconsin: The people have spoken. Davidson and Connor have been placed in nomination, at the republican candidates respectively for governor and lieutenant governor by a majority of approximately 45,000. With the exception of four counties, including Douglas, the Davidson and Connor men appear to have carried every county in the state. Senator La Follette's audacious attempt to boss the party has been overwhelmingly rebuked.

In Milwaukee county McGovern has been defeated for re-nomination as district attorney; Francis X. Boden beat him by 673 votes. The contest between the Boden and McGovern forces will long be remembered as one of the bitterest in the history of the county. McGovern's defeat, notwithstanding the advantages with which he started, represents popular condemnation of the temper in which he administered his office and of his flagrant efforts to profit by political trading.

Now let factional rancor cease! Now let republicans get together for their splendid ticket!

That Stensland "Scoop"

Sheboygan Journal: No more remarkable example of newspaper enterprise ever has been given than was that afforded by the Chicago Tribune when it sent its own reporter all the way to Tangier, Morocco, on a meagre clue and captured Paul O. Stensland, the Chicago bank swindler, for whom the police and Pinkerton detective agency have searched in vain for weeks. Besides getting advertising for itself of untold value, the Tribune has rendered a great public service, for other bankers who may be tempted to sin will feel less inclined when they read how Stensland was run down.

A Newspaper's function is to print the news, but it also has a higher function even than that. It is the business of the newspaper to help in the exposing of fraud and to aid in protecting the public from just such men as Stensland, by giving publicity to their methods of wrongdoing and by holding them up as a bad example. Fear of just the sort of publicity that ex-Banker Stensland is getting keeps thousands of men from being crooked.

It makes no difference whether the "exposure" is the trailing of some wrongdoer or the disclosure of the acceptance of an unsigned paying bond of public officials. The public expects the newspapers to "keep it" and to show up incompetency as well as crime.

A Blow to "Bossism"

Milwaukee News: The primary election law has been given its first trial in the state and it has resulted in the utter repudiation of "Bossism" and a rebuke to La Follette and his rank methods. Wherever La Follette gave open approval to a candidate he placed upon him the mark of political death.

None escaped, Houser, La Follette's bosom friend and lieutenant, was rejected as a crushing vote. In Houser's candidacy La Folletteism was typified and brought to full flower. McGovern and Cochems, the local candidates upon whom La Follette and the "Uncle Ike" organ joined forces to nominate, were sent to the rear. Everywhere it is the same story—a crushing rebuke to La Follette. Even Dane county and Madison repudiated him. And most significant of all, where he made his speeches there his candidates suffered most.

Poor Test for New Law

Chicago Record-Herald: The vote throughout the state was very light. It will not exceed 30 per cent of the total vote of the state and may not reach that figure, this in the face of perfect weather. This is held to be significant in view of the fact that it was the first test of the law and it was expected that being a new thing the voters would turn out and give it a fair trial. As a matter of fact, however, while the people assembled in crowds to hear speakers their enthusiasm did not last to election day.

It is said Davidson received the endorsement of the voters, such of it as went to the polls, and it came out stronger than was expected. With Governor Davidson goes W. D. Connor, Senator La Follette's bete noir, who is nominated for lieutenant governor, though he will probably run somewhat behind the governor.

The fact that Senator La Follette had insisted on Davidson's running for lieutenant governor four and two years ago on the ground that he wanted a good man at the head of the state government should anything happen to him, was the hardest stumbling block which the senator had to get over. As former Governor Hoard put it, if Governor Davidson was a good man now, why had he not changed a bit in the interval except to grow stronger? This question evidently had its weight with the voters.

This was the first trial of the primary law in a general election, a measure that was fathered, fought for and carried through by Senator La Follette. It is the first severe check the senator has had since he began his victorious career six years ago.

RECORD ATTENDANCE AT EVANSVILLE FAIR

Forty-five Hundred at Races This Afternoon—Floral Parade Repeated.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Evansville, Wis., Sept. 6.—Forty-five hundred people, the largest crowd ever gathered on the fair grounds here, are attending the races and enjoying the exposition features on the Rock county fair this afternoon. An excellent program of races is being carried out and every measure of success seems to be attendant upon the enterprise. This morning Albany and Belleville met on the baseball diamond. Albany was victorious by a score of 8 and 3. This afternoon the floral parade, which proved so charming yesterday, was repeated, and the prizes awarded. There was a bicycle riding exhibition, and a performance by balancing acrobats also. Tomorrow is old soldiers day and another good crowd is expected.

(GREEN) TROTTER RACE.

Josie V., owned by Geo. Walsh of Elkhorn, won first, time—2:39 1/4.

Few Timepieces in Abyssinia.

As regards timepieces, the Abyssinian market has been practically neglected. It has not yet become a fashion among the natives to carry watches, and what few clocks are seen in the local shops are chiefly of the cheap alarm type, in nickel, and of German, French, Belgian or American origin. Gold and silver watches are scarcely to be found anywhere.—Horological Review.

Maltose is so nutritious and strengthening and so easy to digest that physicians everywhere recommend it. Malta-Vita is rich in maltose. It starts the day off just right, giving the tingle of new life to sluggish blood and filling the body and mind with energy. There is nothing else quite so good to eat as Malta-Vita with milk, cream or fresh fruit.

With Edged Tools BY HENRY SETON MERRIMAN

AUTHOR OF "THE SOWERS"

In the scene pictured here we have the beginning of a love affair which sent two men to Africa and turned out in the most surprising way. The men became good friends and the woman—well, we can't tell you all about it because that might detract from the pleasure of reading it.

But you know this: When you have two men loving the same woman you can expect things to come to pass.

The story is told with that remarkable realism peculiar to Henry Seton Merriman—the faculty of making the characters more real than those you meet in the flesh. Beginning in fashionable London, the scene is quickly shifted to the jungles of Africa where the most exciting adventures befall, holding the reader in suspense until the startling denouement is reached. SOUTHERN FLAG AROUSES (RE)

Confederate Emblem Waved in Meeting of Ohio Volunteers.

Columbus, O., Sept. 6.—Col. Horace Welch of Jefferson, Tex., who traveled 2,000 miles to attend the reunion of the Fourth Ohio Volunteer regiment, nearly created a riot at the Memorial hall Wednesday by waving a Confederate flag in the faces of the 30 union veterans present.

Some treated the matter jocosely, but there were cries of "Shoot it!" "Fire on the flag!" as the emblem of the cause they had fought against for long years fluttered before their eyes.

Welch displayed the flag after he had presented resolutions adopted by General Dick Taylor, Camp United Confederate Veterans of Jefferson, Tex., expressing friendship for the northern veterans and asking them to visit Texas. No action was taken on the resolutions.

TICKET SCALPERS ARE BEATEN

Cut Rates No Longer Prevailing in St. Paul, Brokers Yielding.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 6.—"Ticket scalping" in Minnesota is a business of the past. Wednesday the ticket brokers of St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth, against whom an injunction was issued some time ago, directing them to refrain from dealing in cutting railroad transportation, came into the Ramsey county district court and the United States district court and practically admitted defeat.

A stipulated decree was filed in the county court for a perpetual injunction and in the United States court of a stipulated settlement, to be followed by a decree to be entered next "rule day" in October, to which time the case was continued, when a perpetual injunction will be ordered.

LINK AND PIN

A train of old coaches from the Chicago Terminal. Railway passed through here over the St. Paul line this morning en route to Monroe, where they will be used in an excursion to Plattville, where an annual fair is now in progress. A shortage of passenger rolling stock is responsible for their use, the cars being without ventilators or lamps and of the oldest pattern. In the center of the car the seats are set at right angles to the sides, while at both ends they run lengthwise.

The new oil-house of the St. Paul company here is a model in every respect. Ten 250-gallon tanks will hold oil of all kinds enough to last a year, and with ease. The barrels are hoisted above the tanks by a block and tackle arrangement and then rolled over a pulley to a position directly over the tank which is to be knocked in and the work is practically complete. The lock on the door is also worthy of mention, it having bolts on both sides and being burglar-proof, similar to a safe lock. The bolts are made under the direction of J. C. Fox by machinist Joe Cookfield.

Overdoing It.

"Baw Jove!" said Algy, "there's such a thing, dear boy, as being too skittish. The other morning I went downtown with my necktie done in so absolutely perfect a style that everybody thought it was a beasty ready-made tie, don't you know?"

MAKES ANSWER TO STATEMENT

TRINITY CHURCH RECTOR OBJECTS TO SOME REFERENCES.

AS TO THE ENGLISH CHURCH

Writes Communication upon Rev. R. C. Denison's Sunday Sermon.

Dear Sir—I want to thank Rev. R. C. Denison for giving, and you for reporting, the recent address of the former on "Views of Life of the English" in your issue of Sept. 4. However, as an English churchman born and bred, I feel it only just to take friendly exception to some of the statements reported regarding the Church of England, her clergy and people; for I must say that the report as it stands is liable to leave a very false and one-sided impression of the Church of England as she stands today in the life of the country. Doubtless Rev. Mr. Denison said something in favor of English churchmanship, and with those who were fortunate enough to hear him all would be well; but with those who only had the printed report, and did not happen to know otherwise, an unjust impression would certainly be made.

The speaker is reported to have said that the pillars of the Church of England are tradition, ceremonialism and aristocracy; that he met several Englishmen, who spoke of the fact that the clergy were content to stand on their dignity, keep up the ceremonies and do little else, that they do not work for their people nor exert themselves on their sermons; that the bishops voting in the House of Lords (twenty-two of them have such votes, while one hundred and forty have no seats nor votes therein) have been steadily opposed to almost every reform for the last one hundred years.

Now all these statements may be, and in some cases are, undoubtedly true. However, are such sweeping statements as these exactly fair or true to the actual facts of the case? Can we judge fairly of a whole class—in this case several millions of souls—by the actions or words of a few stray examples?

I do not wish to palliate one with the past and present sins and shortcomings of my mother church, or her adherents; but it is a fact which needs no proof, that in the vast majority of the country towns and villages and in the very poorest districts of the great cities were it not for the presence of the Church of England and her clergy and people religion would be a low ebb indeed. It is a fact, and the church suffers from it today—that the clergy have been largely drawn from the aristocratic and upper classes of society. But this is being slowly remedied today. It takes a very long time to overcome the traditions of centuries or more.

It is very easy to say that the clergy are content to stand on their dignity, keep up the ceremonies and do little else—but in the majority of cases I know this is not true. In the country villages especially and in the slum districts of the great cities the clergy and lay-workers of the Church of England are the faithful and constant night and day ministrants—spiritual and physical—of the poor and needy, the down-trodden and oppressed. Do any of the leaders of the Gazette know the history and records of such well-known men as Lowder of St. Peter's, London docks; Machonochie of St. Alban's, Holborn; of Doling, among the poorest of the poor in Portsmouth; of Barnet in Stepney; of Ward, and others in my own home Bristol? Do many of us know the wonderful work founded (and today flourishing) by the present bishop of London when head of Oxford Settlement-house, Bethnal Green, London; and later at Stepney, where he earned the nickname of the "costermonger's bishop" because of his love and sympathy and work among that class of very poor people?

Just glance at the work being done at this moment in Liverpool, Birmingham, Newcastle, Grimsby, Bristol, London and scores of other towns by the bishops and "aristocratic" clergy. No, the Church of England has her faults and abuses, and she knows most of them, but she is very much alive today and very much to the fore in spiritual and social uplift and betterment, and it would be a great surprise to many of us to see the multiplicity of daily duties of the average English clergyman today and to notice the tremendous activity and perfect organization which obtains in the great parishes of the large towns and cities of the country. There are many overworked bishops and clergy. Certainly it does not look as though the mother church were doing nothing during the past century when she has sent out and equipped with men and money eighty-seven foreign missionary bishoprics—most of them during the past fifty years—and spends every year over twenty-five million dollars on home and foreign mission work, to say nothing of huge sums given and not passing through organized channels. Very much more could be said along these lines, but I must desist.

NEUTRAL GAME IS TO BE PLAYED HERE

Theatrical Trust Shows and Independent Artists Are Both Booking at Opera House.

Janesville will benefit in the ditch struggle going on between the theatrical trust and the independent managers. Messrs. Dolisco, Fiske, Shubert and Walter N. Lawrence, Peter L. Myers, manager of the Grand, has decided to remain neutral, taking no stand in the fight, permitting both factions to play this theatre and as a result his city will have the best line of attractions that it has ever had. A number of the one night stands permitted themselves to be politically coerced into giving the trust the absolute say as to what attractions they shall book, thereby cutting out the independents. When one stops to consider that the independent attractions which include David Warfield, B. H. Sothern and Julia Marlowe, Blanche Bates, Henry D. Dixey, Cyril Scott, Margaret Anglin, Henry Woodruff in "Brown of Harvard," "The Love Route," and some sixty-two others including "The Greater Love," will be compelled to find dates somewhere and as their territory is limited it is more than possible that Janesville will be in the circumscribed area. The first of the independent shows that come here this season will be "The Greater Love," a big drama that combines also many features of grand opera and a symphony orchestra. Aubrey Budicault and a powerful cast will on Saturday, Sept. 15, play one evening at the Grand. It comes here direct from the Madison Square Theatre, New York. Other attractions booked are, "The Love Route," now playing at the Garrick theatre, Chicago, and "Brown of Harvard."
